In all Norris' statements he refere very bitterly to his arrest in New York in 1870 and his desire to escape pay ment of the claim because of this injustice. Mrs. D'Herblay, after false affidavits filed by Norris, is equally bitter in her remarks about him Norris returned to Hawali and ad vertised his valuable ranch for sale whereupon Paul Neumann brought proceedings to have him declared a bankrupt and seized the ranch but these proceedings were afterwards dismissed. Thereupon Norris, sued Mrs. D'Herblay for instituting bankruptcy proceedings and also brought suft upon the hankrupt bond.
